

Holiday Cooking Show

SOUTHERN SHORTCUT RECIPES

Welcome!

You are officially confirmed for the Holiday Cooking Show October 23rd at the Gardendale Civic Center exhibition hall, presented by Kathleen Phillips, food blogger at GritsAndGouda.com. This is a fundraiser for Outdoor Ability Foundation.

To make it easier for everyone, no paper tickets are necessary. You are now on our guest list! We will check off your name at the Welcome Table that night. Welcome table and silent auction opens at 5:00 pm. Show starts at 6pm.

AGAIN THIS YEAR! You will be able to pre-order a box dinner from Chick-fil-A! You can pick them up in the Fireside room at beginning at 5pm. The silent auction items will also be in this room. Order at this site: gdalecfa.square.site

Please email sphillips2282@gmail.com with the names of your ticket holders if you purchased more than one ticket or if you are not the ticket holder, so all names can be entered in door prize drawings. It's ok if you just want to use your email for all attendees, but we need all names. Also, please forward this confirmation information to them.

We are busy preparing for a night of fun and laughter, easy-to-prepare Southern shortcut holiday recipes, silent auction, door prizes, and during intermission, free dessert and coffee/hot chocolate bar, courtesy of Panera Bread in Gardendale.

Be sure to check our gallery of silent auction items over at <https://www.outdoorabilityfoundation.com/> soon. We will be adding to the gallery up until one week before the show. You may purchase bulk tickets online and we will have them ready for you that night to avoid lines. Read about our bucket system at this site.

This is a fundraiser for Outdoor Ability Foundation, a 501 c 3 nonprofit started by Scott and Grayson Phillips to equip the young disabled outdoorsman (kids 8-19) We will take credit cards and cash for the silent auction as well as donations. The civic center has an ATM.

Until then, be sure to check <https://gritsandgouda.com/cooking-shows-classes/> for Holiday Cooking Show updates and follow Grits and Gouda on Facebook.
Flyer attached to this email.

The Gardendale Civic Center address is 857 Main St, Gardendale, AL.
